Henry VI, Part 2 (often written as 2 Henry VI) is a history play by William Shakespeare believed to have been written in 1591 and set during the lifetime of King Henry VI of England. Henry VI, Part 1, often referred to as 1 Henry VI, is a history play by William Shakespeare—possibly in collaboration with Christopher Marlowe and Thomas Nashe—believed to have been written in 1591. The smash hit of Christmas 2017 returns to the Royal Shakespeare Theatre. This festive tale of redemption and compassion is one of the most loved short stories ever written, adapted by one of our greatest living writers. How I wish I'd been there, but it's my own fault for not keeping abreast of RSC events. Between 1973 and 1975 when I moved to Stratford, I drove down regularly from Staffordshire to see productions and still remember the collective gasp when Alan Howard strode onstage, head to toe in gold, at the end of Henry IV part 2.
