The Emotionally Destructive Relationship: Seeing It, Stopping It, Surviving It [Leslie Vernick] on Amazon.com. FREE shipping on qualifying offers. Leslie Vernick, counselor and social worker, has witnessed the devastating effects of emotional abuse. Many Plato, The Allegory of the Cave: The son of a wealthy and noble family, Plato (427-347 B.C.) was preparing for a career in politics when the trial and eventual execution of Socrates (399 B.C.) changed the course of his life. Empathy is the capacity to understand or feel what another person is experiencing from within their frame of reference, that is, the capacity to place oneself in another's position. There are many definitions for empathy that encompass a broad range of emotional states." James Scott is one of the most original and interesting social scientists whom I know. So it is no surprise that Seeing Like a State is a broad ranging, theoretically important, and empirically grounded treatment of the modern state.
